be—and to guide your son into becoming the man God intended.”

—Cindi McMenamín, national speaker and author of When Women Walk Alone. Bringing up boys isn't for the faint of heart, but bestselling author Rhonda Stoppe has been there before—and she's here to help! Drawing on insights from fellow boy-moms and from Scripture, Rhonda reveals why walking with Christ is every mom's key to parenting well. You'll discover how motherhood gives you unique opportunities to grow in faith as you draw nearer to God through prayer, Bible study, and mentorship from godly women. You'll also find practical advice for shaping your son in character and faith as you encourage his passions, teach him biblical masculinity, and protect his spirit without smothering his individuality. Your success as a mother doesn't depend on what your son does with his life, but on how you obey God's guidance on this mission of motherhood. Moms Raising Sons to Be Men provides the biblical hope, wisdom, and encouragement you need to help your son live a life without regrets! will be your ideal companion! Over the course of more than 110 pages, it will allow the two of you to: Get to know each other better by comparing your preferences and answering questions on various subjects. Some questions will be light, and some will dig a little deeper. "Son, who would you be if you were a celebrity?", "Mom, what is the most beautiful gift you have ever received?",

"Son what helps you feel better when you are sad?", "Mom, you have a chance to go back in time and change something that has happened in your life: what would it be?" ... Facilitate mother-son communication: It isn't always easy to confide in someone face to face. This guided journal will allow the pair to put their emotions on paper and to express themselves easily on delicate subjects.

Reinforce your complicity by sharing special moments with the help of activities, games and challenges, giving you a good excuse to laugh and have fun together! Create new memories to be immortalized: photoshoots, drawings, and collages will be part of the game! By allowing the development and fortification of the mother-son relationship, this journal is the ideal gift for Mother's Day, birthdays, or Christmas: an original present that will fill the hearts of children willing to share more with their beloved moms! A journal to be completed with your son starting at 7 or 8 years old. Rise Before the Sun Allen & Unwin Australia IT'S A BOY! To hear these words is the dream of every mother. From her son, a woman learns what it feels like to grow up in a male body. As his trusted adviser, teacher, and friend, she helps to shape his view of himself, of others, and of the world. She instills values and ideals that will stay with him throughout his life, and she has so many hopes and dreams for the man he will become. Because of her son, a mother's life will be more meaningful, her joys will be greater, and her heart will experience the greatest love imaginable. BOYS WILL BE BOYS! There are moments in a son's life when he tests his mother's resolve, as well as her patience, but the bond between them is unbreakable. She is his mirror for how he looks at the world and for how the world looks at him. As a child, he will turn to her for guidance, understanding, and support; as he grows older, he will do everything he can to protect and care for her. Though he may have difficulty putting his feelings into words, there is never any doubt of a son's respect, devotion, and incredible love for his mother. LIKE MOTHER, LIKE SON. For all their obvious differences, there could never be two people more alike. Their time together is filled with unforgettable memories and immeasurable rewards. The tenderness and pride they feel toward each other can only be surpassed by the happiness they share. There is a close and enduring relationship that only a mother and son can ever know... and a very special feeling of love that lives forever in their hearts.

Just Mom and Me: a Guided and Creative Journal for Mothers and Sons

Independently Published This Mother And Son Journal is an amazing new journal that helps every mom and son enjoy a fun and creative way to build a closer relationship with one another. Use this journal with thoughtful prompts, playful challenges and awesome activities to build a tighter bond with your child!

This entertaining prompted journal is the right tool to build your mother-son relationship. Your son can record his memories, swap stories about his life, compare their views on growing up with you, and explore common or unique interests with their mother! Playful interactive lists, letters back and forth, and interactive stories invite both mom & son to think, write, and doodle about topics for their past and future, build up self-confidence and improve their penmanship and writing. Quality Time With Your Child: Answering these interesting fun questions, doodling and creating stories together helps build a unique one of a kind bond where you and your son can open up to each other and explore feelings through activities. Connect with each other: Easily create conversations with your son which makes it fun to use the journal to explore topics about getting older, and explore each other's dreams and trials. Easily compare each other's views: which enables your son to learn, what were you like when you were my age? And you to learn things like: What do you want to be when you get older? Do you ever feel pressured or uncomfortable around me or others? Makes a great gift for moms: Fill this journal out with your mother, and surprise and delight her. Perfect for times where you'll spend long periods together like car rides, vacations or when you're home together for an extended time. This Mother And Son Journal is for every mom who needs to connect with their son, but worries they may be getting older and not interested in spending time with you.. Here's a huge problem you face right now. It's getting your son to open up and talk about how they feel growing up and what is going on in their life. What makes this even worse is the fact that you know many parents struggle to have meaningful conversations between parents and their children as they get older! Which means you may feel like your son is drifting away. Peer pressure, new friends and puberty can make trying to have a closer relationship with one another a nightmare! But luckily for you, there's now a solution! Doing Life with Your Adult Children iUniverse Therapists and the general public are familiar with the terms "(s)mothering," "helicopter moms," and "boomerang sons" because they have been popularized in films like Monster in

Law, Cyrus and Failure to Launch—but what makes for humorous fodder onscreen depicts a troubling issue that's being played out for real in therapists' offices, bedrooms, and divorce courts across the nation: an epidemic of men who are enmeshed in unhealthy, energy-sucking, and emasculating relationships with their mothers. Even though these men are grown and living away from Mom, her influence has left them unable to fully commit or to fully love, and they are plagued with anger issues, indecisiveness, depression, or toxic stress. In Breaking the Mother-Son Dynamic, John Lee takes an eye-opening look at how a mother's love or lack thereof impacts a son's life choices and life partner or lovers. Perhaps you are one of these men (or maybe you recognize these behaviors in the man you love). Do you hold back, swallow, or bottle up things you wish you could say to your mother for fear it would upset or "kill" her? Did you grow up hearing negative things about men, masculinity, being a male, and how you shouldn't be like 'the rest of them'? Does your mother, or did she, fail to respect your boundaries as a child, adolescent, or adult? Does your mother keep referring to you as her "baby" or her "little boy" even after you became an adult? If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, you may be caught in an unhealthy mother-son dynamic that is negatively affecting key areas of your life. Several years ago, John Lee wrote what came to be the most authoritative book on why men run from relationships, The Flying Boy: Healing the Wounded

Man. Here, he visits the mother-son relationship and gently but assertively shows men how to separate from the mother energy that has a massive pull on their hearts and souls, no matter how young or old they may be. In a work that is a combination of memoir, self-help psychology, recovery and personal growth, he discovers: why a relationship of 50-50 responsibility doesn't work, and what does work; how men can stop "sonning" mothers, lovers, and wives; why one must learn his or her own "rhythm of closeness"; how to be really present to those we love and to life itself; and much, much more. Using case studies, personal stories, and assessments, the book helps men release any anger and grief toward their mothers and teaches them how to take responsibility for their adult selves; most importantly, Lee provides an understanding of what healthy adults should—and shouldn't—expect from each other. Lee shows wives and girlfriends how to stop being their man's surrogate mother and shows well-meaning mothers how certain behaviors may perpetuate an unhealthy cycle and how to better relate to their sons in healthier ways. By helping mothers and sons identify this dynamic and providing them with the tools to dismantle it, this book will change lives. For anyone who is ready to make a clean, clear, and guilt-free separation from the kind of (s)mothering and "sonning" that just hasn't worked, John Lee will show them the way. Mothers, Sons, and Lovers Revell The mother/son relationship is defined by powerful cultural myths. On the one hand it is idealized: the bond between mother and son is exalted as the purest and most fulfilling in a women's life and an unquestioning source of love in a man's life. On the other hand it is vilified. Mother love is portrayed as stifling, limiting or even castrating. Mothers are blamed for flaws in their son's personalities and for any sexual orientation which is not strictly heterosexual. This study attempts to reveal the truth behind these myths and lifts the lid on decades of uneasy family relationships.

There's a good reason why your son perplexes you. He's the OPPOSITE sex! Boys really do think, communicate, and process the world differently than girls. But no matter your son's age, he needs you, and he needs you in not-so-apparent ways. Drawing from her own experiences, as well as those from moms and sons from around the country, Cheri Fuller shares what makes boys and young men tick and how to become a more welcome influence at every stage in their lives. She answers all the top questions, including: "How can I help my son (and me!) deal with his emotions in a healthy way?" "School is such a struggle. How can I help him?" "Our personalities are SO different. How can we get on the same page?" "My son hardly says a thing. What can I do?" "What are the best ways to instill good values?" "How can I encourage a lasting faith in God?" With page after page of use-it-today advice and encouraging stories, this book will help you steer your son toward becoming a caring, confident young man. Includes Reflection Questions for Personal or Group Use Great for understanding grandsons, too! "Some mother-son relationships seem to add credence to the adage that 'men are from Mars, women are from Venus.' Even mothers who have a close bond with their sons may think they harbor a complete stranger when their male

offspring reach puberty. Fuller is a speaker and author, as well as mother of three (two boys and a girl) and grandmother of six. She lists specific activities that all sons need from their mothers, such as encouragement, communication, prayer, and confidence-building. She adds questions at each chapter's end to 'ponder, journal or discuss,'	lending the book to both individual and group study.
