Empower children to recognize their individual worth and develop confidence in themselves, their abilities, and the choices they make. Children learn that they can speak up, expect and show respect, try new things, and believe in themselves. Confidence-building skills of accepting yourself, asking for what you need, making decisions, solving problems, and communicating are also discussed. Young children will respond to the true-to-life situations and colorful illustrations. Being the Best Me Series: From the author of the popular Learning to Get Along® books come the first two books in this one-of-a-kind character-development series. Each book focuses on specific attitude or character traits—such as optimism, courage, resilience, imagination, personal power, decision-making, and work ethics. Also included are discussion questions, games, activities, and additional information adults can use to reinforce the concepts children are learning. Filled with diversity, these read-aloud books will be welcome in school, home, and childcare settings.

Our unique and funny journal notebooks are sure to put a smile on someone's face. It's True... Here's why... Girls begin to question everything about themselves as they approach the tween years... And for most caring moms, guardians, and adults, it's a thing to worry about... You're probably looking for ways to build your girls self-esteem and confidence... You want to see her constantly exposed to positive ideas... You want to have her memorize powerful phrases like I am Confident, I am Powerful, I am Special, I am Loved... And you'd definitely love to see her casually recite these affirmations at home... ..while her face lights up as she believes for herself that she is all of those things. The thing is... Girls tend to accept the society's lies at this stage of their lives: No girl deserves to be told she's too fat...or not pretty...Not nice You know... These lies plant seeds of negativity in their fragile minds... Which is why most girls grow up shy, insecure, lacking confidence, and end up making negative life choices... Let's help your girl grow up strong and confident... ..so that she can one day turn out to be a beautiful, confident, and the brave young woman you've always envisioned her to become. It might interest you to know that: What's probably the two most potent words a girl needs to shape who she wants to be are 'I AM'... ..And if you can get her saying this over and over again...it will be natural for her, as she grows, to tell the world who she is instead of the other way round. You will find 40 of such positive statements in this book. Coloring on the amazing pages of your copy of the Self Esteem Coloring Book for Girls is a fun With 40 pages containing beautiful pictures that are easy and fun to color...it's truly an exciting way to build your girl's self esteem doing what she loves...
