Contrary to popular legend, every dog does not have his day. Some dogs--i.e., musicians, actors, foodstuffs, sitcoms, beverages, albums, and movies--are perennially overlooked. This book will change all that. Using a highly scientific, unabashedly subjective, yet uncannily accurate formula, the brilliant comedic minds behind Yankee Pot Roast can help you determine with absolute confidence whether something or someone is underrated (George Harrison) or not (Paul McCartney). For example: Underrated Good Times Bubble Yum Snapple Not Underrated Diff'rent Strokes Big League Chew Dr. Pepper The UR (Underrated Rating) takes into account cultural, commercial, and critical appeal, as well as more nebulous but equally crucial factors like coolness and staying power. Admit it--you've suspected for years that NewsRadio is a criminally ignored masterpiece. Now you can prove it. Geoff Wolinetz, Nick Jezarian, and Josh Abraham are the founders and editors of Yankee Pot Roast. Their work has appeared in Maxim and Cracked and on the web at McSweeney's, The Black Table, DrinkatWork and more. They live in New York City.

A tragic night forces fifteen year old Kisha to run away from home. She's followed by bad memories as she journeys from one place to the next. Her first stop is at her best friend Tori's house where a horrible secret is revealed and Kisha is forced to run away again. The next stop is Covenant House, a group home for teens where she's introduced to Shay, Norey, and Dia. The girl's bond becomes a dangerous one and loyalties are tested. The light at the end of the tunnel is Chase, a local drug dealer with a heart of gold; he is the only person Kisha trusts. Chase shows Kisha the true meaning of love and loyalty, but as Kisha starts her new life, the past resurfaces and unfinished business is at the center of attention. Everything begins to unravel as life as she knows it is changed forever.

In this book, Peter

Anthony Mena looks closely at descriptions of space in ancient Christian hagiographies and considers how the desert relates to constructions of subjectivity. By reading three pivotal ancient hagiographies—the Life of Antony, the Life of Paul the Hermit, and the Life of Mary of Egypt—in conjunction with Gloria Anzaldúa's ideas about the US/Mexican borderlands/la frontera, Mena shows readers how descriptions of the desert in these texts are replete with spaces and inhabitants that render the desert a borderland or frontier space in Anzaldúan terms. As a borderland space, the desert functions as a device for the creation of an emerging identity in late antiquity—the desert ascetic. Simultaneously, the space of the desert is created through the image of the saint. Literary critical, religious studies, and historical methodologies converge in this work in order to illuminate a heuristic tool for interpreting the desert in late antiquity and its importance for the development of desert asceticism. Anzaldúa's theories help guide a reading especially attuned to the important relationship between space and subjectivity. Cassandra Clare: The Mortal Instrument Series (4 books) Simon and Schuster Snake Eyes. Soldier, ninja. Respected member of G.I. Joe. His real name is classified; his past a blank slate. Finally all previously depicted events are woven together with new tales and secrets to create the definitive origin of one of pop culture's most enduring icons. Snake Eyes Kensington Publishing Corp. Caitlyn's ability to see through people's masks into the lies beyond is a powerful gift. One that the FBI want to use to their advantage—whether Caitlyn's willing or not. Just when Caitlyn thinks the danger is finally over, a new threat emerges... this time from the last person she expected. Having witnessed Caitlyn's unique ability to unmask secrets and lies, FBI Agent Kaplan wants her to help to break open a deadly case involving a sadistic crime lord... And she's prepared to use blackmail to get her way. Caitlyn has no choice but to get close to her new college roommate Quella, and help expose Quella's father, ruthless human trafficker Diego Mendez.

She can't tell anyone what she's doing—especially not her boyfriend Eric, who she's determined to protect at all costs. Being with her has already cost him so much, she can't bear for him to suffer more. Except Eric doesn't understand her sudden change of heart, or the people she's now hanging with, and he starts to wonder if Caitlyn is really the person he thought she was. They've been through so much, surely this can't be the end? Will he realize what's happening in time to save Caitlyn? Or will the man with the eyes of a snake be the last person Caitlyn ever sees? ★★★★★ "I could not put this book down, I had to finish it! Best book of the series so far!" A future winter November 2018. The Eye of Heavens prototype Chinese satellite with next generation technology falls and is lost in the polar icecap. The race begins when two superpowers face off, one to learn secrets, the other to keep them. And they will send their greatest weapons wielded by their fiercest warriors to reach the prize. Special Agent Greg Cole, a man of lethal skill, pathological appetites, and a Machiavellian intellect, who engineered the theft of the satellite. For him, retrieving its secrets would be a career-making coup and nothing; no one was going to stand in his wayfriend, foe, or innocent bystander. SEAL Command Master Chief Carter Boheman aging warrior given one final chance to prove he can still run with the wolves, never questioned his orders or his purpose . . . until this mission. Until his orders called for murder. Colonel Xiang Lai Peng of the Peoples Republic of China Tasked by his government to retrieve the satellite at all costs, this elite unit commander will lead his men into an unimaginable nightmare where the price of success will be all too high. Captain Marcus Cartaneo USN Commander of the USS Seawolf, a submarine bristling with a frightening array of weaponry and the combined technological might of a superpower. Yet, its weakness lies in the tragedy haunted crew on the verge of mutiny against a commanding officer who has lost their trust. But natural enemies are the least of their worries for as the Arctic winter storms close in; something else has awakened deep within the ice. An elder force that once roamed ancient seas with impunity, now consigned to the realm of myth and legend has returned. The stories speak of its savagery; pure, insatiable and untainted by conscience or reason yet possessing immense power and fearsome intelligence. In this cold, unforgiving wasteland, man and machine will come face to face with a malevolent, unrelenting entity who will hunt them across ice, across oceans to the very doorstep of their homes. Only the survivor, only the triumphant will be the Apex Predator.
